Virtual Scavenger Hunt

Today we will be using the computer as a tool to help inspire a poem. Choose at least ten words from the provided Word Bank that you find intriguing (do not worry, you can change your mind later). Use your favorite search engine to look up your chosen words. You may decide to browse a number of sites and add in more search terms to narrow your results (for example: the word pearl may render up the term: cultured pearl. You may then enter cultured pearl into a search engine to conduct some research). You may also want to browse images to help inspire a poem. The goal is to write a line or two of poetry from each word. As you continue to work your way down the list of words your poem may assemble naturally or you may have to rearrange the lines after by making creative connections. First focus on coming up with a line or two inspired from each word and work from there.

1. umbrella
2. lark
3. cake
4. mutiny
5. moss
6. phosphorescence
7. carbon
8. migrant
9. hiss
10. salt
11. constitution
12. torque
13. prairie
14. messenger
15. ashes
16. parlor
17. propagation
18. stem
19. brocade
20. forge
21. pearl
22. Hamlet
23. lentil
24. fennel
25. calibrate
26. cobalt
27. grim
28. velvet
29. coniferous
30. reel
31. ore
32. slug
33. Circe
34. current
35. rural
36. flora
37. dogma
38. Caesar
39. pillar
40. font
41. amber
42. turnip
43. luxury
44. dragonfly
45. clutch
46. plunder
47. lotus
48. squall
49. ember
50. ringlet
51. Tiresias
52. blanch
53. cauldron
54. grain
55. Strait of Gibraltar
56. pigeon
57. reed
58. imperialist
59. calcium
60. Michelangelo
61. artifact
62. lyric
63. cargo
64. landscape
65. braid
66. Ovid
67. steel
68. cashew
69. gold
70. lure
71. root
72. lake
73. Venus
74. Picasso
75. April
76. kingdom
77. cuticle
78. branch
79. filter
80. plastic
81. vibrate
82. crescendo
83. valley
84. tremulous
85. charcoal
86. frieze
87. sculpture
88. dash
89. fracture
90. teal